Description

A set of comprehensive and fully interactive Science lessons fully aligned to QCA Schemes of Work and the Science Curriculum. Science Pathways is designed for stimulating self-paced learning of individuals, groups or whole-class learning.

All the lessons are attractively presented to engage students of different ages and abilities and to develop understanding and the relevance of key scientific ideas. The lessons use charts and graphs to communicate scientific information and include suggestions for experimental and investigative science. They describe and explain scientific ideas, events and phenomena and use precise scientific and technical vocabulary throughout.

The complete package offers pre- and post-test assessment, individual and/or group lesson plans, a comprehensive selection of lessons—each with study, practice and test elements, an authoring facility and a wealth of progress reports, with each lesson fully aligned to the Science Curriculum and QCA Schemes of Work.

Science Pathways supports teachers in the classroom and has shown meaningful improvement in SATs results.
